Distinguished Visitors Grace Our Campus

International Committee of Development for Huntington College: Mr. O. K. Ziegler, Dr. Warren Van Campen, Mr. Eugene Riebe, Mr. Eugene Knies, Mr. Carl Pierson, Dr.

Elmer Becker, Mr. Gene Snowden, Dr. Clyde Meadows, Mr. F. L. Tipmore, Mr. Mike Patterson, The Rev. Paul Graham.

Dr. Carlson, Dr. Becker, Dr. Schilling, Dr. Meadows, on campus for an Administrative Conference.

Many distinguished guests visit the campus of Huntington College each year. What an honor and privilege we have to gain from the knowledge and experience they impart to us. By sacrifice, dedication, and devotion to God, their country, and their fellow men, these leaders have given their lives to serve others. We as students and future leaders of tomorrow, have as examples, the ideas, experience, and personalities of these men and women who are serving their country so well.

The final test of a leader is that he leaves behind him in other men the conviction and the will to carry on. . . . The genius of a good leader is to leave behind him a situation which common sense, without the grace of genius, can deal with successfully.

—Walter Lippmann

In Honor of Our Retiring President

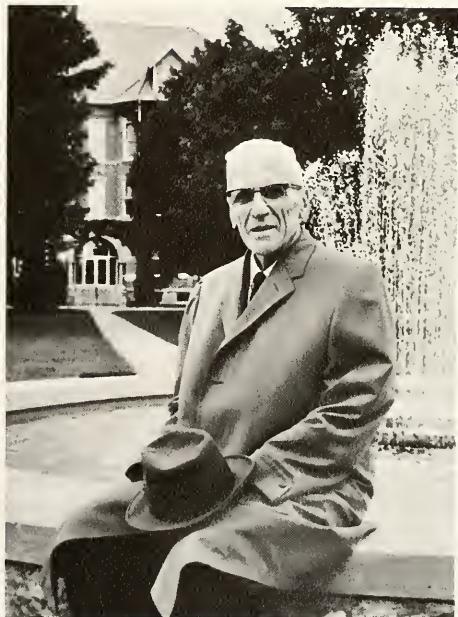

"Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him; and He shall bring it to pass." Psalm 37:5. Most certainly, this verse indicates Dr. Elmer Becker's commitment and dedication to Christ.

During the 24 year tenure as President of Huntington College, Dr. Becker has been described as Christian, counselor, administrator and friend. His willingness to meet with students in need of guidance, his friendliness manifested to everyone, his consideration shown to others, and his ceaseless attention given to the many details necessary for the efficient functioning of a college has given Dr. Becker a position of respect and love in the hearts of the many students who have attended Huntington College.

Huntington College has grown since 1941: Milton Wright Hall, Loew Alumni Library, North Central Association Accreditation, J. L. Brenn Hall of Science and a dream coming true, the Hardy Residence for Women. This work truly indicates Dr. Becker's desire that Huntington College, as a Christian Liberal Arts institution, adequately fills the needs of the youth of the church, community, state and nation who may come within her halls to prepare for life's service. We at Huntington College are greatly indebted to the dedication and service which Dr. Becker has given to Huntington College.

Natural objects themselves, even when they make no claim to beauty, excite the feelings, and occupy the imagination. Nature pleases, attracts, delights, merely because it is nature. We recognize in it an Infinite Power.

Student Body Forms for New Semester

Old friends re-meet and new friends are made as the students are again enlivening the campus to start the Fall Semester. Their interests involve all phases of life, including the spiritual aspect which is always evident at Huntington College.

Education is a debt due from the present to future generations.

—George Peabody.

An endearing companion is also brought from home to become a resident of the dorm.

The Beauty and Significance of Huntington College

This is Huntington College: embodiment of the United Brethren denomination's dream, source of nourishment and growth for hungry intellects and spirits.

Attended by students from as near as the surrounding city and as far away as Hong Kong, Huntington College prepares all of them for the same end: service to their fellow men. The college attempts to achieve this goal through a tri-fold development of the individual; that is, through education in the mental, physical and spiritual areas of life.

Because more modern facilities and an increasingly competent faculty have been added to an already strong program for spiritual development, H. C. can be justifiably optimistic. Its future undoubtedly holds an even more effective blend of the traditional character and culture.

The Freshman Initiation was held in traditional form, a tug-of-war for boys and one for girls. Skits were presented under the most trying conditions and complete confusion reigned.

HAYRIDE KING AND QUEEN: Seniors, Marty Henry and Phil Brumfield.

The Junior class sponsored the annual hayride for the entire student body. In traditional form, this is always one of the highlights of the Fall Semester. As the evening progressed, events ensued from bizarre to sublime.

Work Day Uses Many Angles

. . . to raise money for Huntington College. The students show great enthusiasm for this noble cause.

The greatest asset of any nation is the spirit of its people, and the greatest danger that can menace any nation is the breakdown of that spirit—the will to win and the courage to work.

Homecoming Day was here and we could not believe that the many hours of preparation had been completed, even though our personal well-being felt all the effects of the great effort. As the floats passed in review the ideas and themes of their sponsors appeared in glorious array. The parade was a beautiful and worthy opening of a day that is highly revered by Huntington College.

Foresters Defend Their Championship

The Foresters traveled to Taylor University at Upland, Indiana for the Taylor University Invitational Tournament. Although the Foresters were the defending champions, they were viewed as the underdog of this tournament due to their lack of height. This lack of height was countered by determination, teamwork and superb outside shooting. The efforts of Snapp, Paul and Hicks under the boards gave H. C. possession of the ball many times, when a less determined effort would have given their opponents the ball and many points.

They came through the tourney in commendable style, winning the final game over a very worthy Taylor University team, and were crowned the Champions for the second consecutive year. H. C. forward, Kent Paul was distinguished by receiving the "Most Valuable Player" award.

College Library . . .

An Important Spoke in the Wheel of Education

A library may be regarded as the solemn chamber in which a man may take counsel with all who have been wise, and great, and good, and glorious among the men that have gone before him.

—G. Dawson.

When day is done, the chimes signify it's time to close.

Student traffic continually flows to the Alumni Library to obtain the wide range of information contained upon its shelves. To those seeking the full benefit of education, the many volumes available are greatly appreciated.

Books and periodicals alone cannot fill the needs of all, so phonographic records of classical and spiritual music, dramatics and languages are also a part of the library.

Miss E. Faye Connor, Head Librarian, is dedicated to the noble task so important to all students.

Many Trees Beautify Our Campus

Stranger, if thou hast learned a truth which needs no school of long experience, that the world is full of guilt and misery, and hast seen enough of all its sorrows, crimes and cares to tire thee of it, enter this wild wood and view the haunts of Nature. The calm shade shall bring a kindred calm, and the sweet breeze that makes the green leaves dance shall waft a balm to thy sick heart.

This Is Our

Huntington College has a dream, a dream that is cherished and believed in. This vision has been described by precise blueprints, sketches and carefully considered proposals and plans. Its cost in labor, money and sacrifice has been reckoned and accepted. Optimism is the prevailing watchword.

This dream is not ordinary; it is the hope of campus expansion for a small church college in a day of large, state-supported universities. Further, it symbolizes maintained spiritual influence in a nation of materialistic philosophy. Such a purpose gives the dream significance.

Happily, no unsurmountable obstacles are expected in fulfilling this vision, for in the words of Shaemus O'Sheal: "He whom a dream hath possessed knoweth no more of doubting . . ."

Meritorious Service by Student Council

The Student Council, with over 20 years of service, provides a student government for the student body at Huntington College. It not only seeks to develop and maintain the best of standards in the Christian college life and activities, but furthermore strives for cooperation with the faculty in the promotion of its work.

Membership includes the President, elected by the student body, and the class President along with a specified number of representatives from each of their classes. The Seminary is also granted one representative. The organization is sponsored by a selected faculty member.

Of the many worth-while projects undertaken by the group, sponsorship of some of the Friday chapel services, the Fall work day, and the Spring clean-up day are annual responsibilities. In addition, the Council actively supports both regional and national progress which are of benefit to Huntington College.

One of the most significant accomplishments of the present Student Council was the much needed revision of the organization's Constitution. Although it has not yet been ratified and cannot be during the remaining sessions of the present Council, it is hoped that it can take effect and thus strengthen the organization's contributions to the college program.

Participation Is Key to W.R.A.'s Success

The WRA formally known as the Women's Recreational Association is one of the most active organizations on campus. Participating in inter-collegiate sports: softball, basketball, and volleyball, the WRA is a feared contender. This is because of the training and leadership of club sponsor Miss Marilyn Gerrard.

The WRA's projects includes a "Round-up" (a retreat welcoming freshmen), concessions at basketball games, bake sales, High School Play-Days, Sportaramas of co-ed recreation, and a Retreat restricted to members.

With the desire "to further interest in mathematics and the natural sciences, to broaden scientific knowledge, and to keep abreast with recent scientific developments," the twenty members of the Science Club, under the capable sponsorship of Professor Robert Hale, participated in another year's activities.

One of the most active academic organizations on campus, the club sponsored an open house of the J. L. Brenn Hall of Science for the public and students, and enjoyed two trips: one to the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago and the other to the Eiffel Plasterer farm to observe the production of sorghum molasses, a beautiful display of whirling lights, and old steam engines.

The "Land Experiment" and a discussion on Evolution were a few of the many interesting topics presented during the regular monthly programs.

A single mind can acquire a fair knowledge of the whole field of science, and find plenty of time to spare for ordinary human affairs. Not many people take the trouble to do so. But without knowledge of science one cannot understand current events. That is why our modern literature and art are mostly so unreal.

After completing a successful first year, Circle K has proven its dedication to service. The club prides itself on getting the job done and doing it well. Dirby Day and the "Little 500 Bike Race," Hawaiian Luau and serving at the Kiwanis Pancake Supper are only a few ways that the club serves.

A Cappella Choir Sings God's Praises

Mr. Hamm reflects the precision of the choir.

The audience stands, the cathedral reverberates as the massive two hundred voice choir sings "Hallelujah, for the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth." In cooperation with Huntington Church choirs, Handel's "Messiah" is the Choir's first responsibility.

The long awaited moment comes: packing, a term paper to finish, more packing, loading, Alma Mater, a final farewell to the sweetheart, grind of the diesel—John Forlow and the Huntington College A Cappella Choir leave for Canada on their annual spring tour.

The year comes to a climax. A soloist mellowing "I saw the Holy City, New Jerusalem" while the choir softly enters with "Holy is the Lord of Hosts" represents the dedication and precision with which the choir sings A. R. Gaul's "The Holy City." The year may be over, but the words and music of great composers live long in the memories of each choir member.

1965 spring tour was exciting for the choir members. The tour was a lot of hard work: robes to take care of, risers to set up, luggage to load and unload, an exciting but tiresome performance, living out of a suit case, and traveling to the next concert.

However, the rewards overwhelmed the hard work. Many wonderful people were met; new cultures were observed; new foods were eaten; and diets were ruined. The recreation involved basketball, ping pong, softball, eating, and most wonderful of all—viewing the sights.

The overnight stay at Niagara Falls was most relaxing. Hearing the roar of the falls and seeing the lights at night, as well as tunneling down beneath and behind the curtain of rapidly falling water indicated the workmanship of God in his beautiful creation.

*The Lord is my strength and my shield;
in Him my heart trusts;
so I am helped, and my heart exults, and with my song I give thanks to Him.*
—Psalms 28:7

Potato chips, pop, dessert, and grilled chicken prepared with the touch of chef Hamm climaxed the year's activities at the annual choir party. The members met together to reminisce the journey from the "Promised Land" into the "Holy Land," LaDoyt's corny jokes, Nondace's optical illusion, and Doug Reahm's character impersonations.

And no one will forget the moments when melody in voice and dedication to God thrilled the hearts and souls of thousands as the Gospel of Jesus Christ was presented by music.

Mnemosyne

The production of your Mnemosyne requires the solving of many obstacles before the publication begins to take shape. Thousands of pictures must be made to tell the story of Huntington College, but only a few that best can tell the many segments of our daily college life are chosen for the publication.

Writing copy, laying out pages, creating headlines, choosing quotations and reading proofs consume many long hours of work. A challenge indeed, but alas the reward and satisfaction of a job well done.

We present to you the Mnemosyne of 1965. We know that you will cherish the many memories which are recorded upon its pages.

HUNTINGTONIAN AT WORK

Walking late at night behind Livingston Hall, one would see the lights of a small but busily occupied basement room. Sure enough! The Huntingtonian staff is busy scrambling pictures together, writing copy, figuring out important headlines, and revising and proof-reading the final dummy sheet.

The Huntingtonian mirrors our campus with its own opinions, humor, and happenings. In it can be found the important events of the past two weeks and the events planned for the immediate future. Editorials, stories, devotions, sports events, columns, and other items are placed in the paper for the students' perusal.

Gospel Volunteers, directed by Larry Petrie, president, was one of the more active organizations on campus this year.

The regular meetings, held every Thursday afternoon at four thirty, were highlighted by reading of Christian poetry, singing of choruses, and by listening to God's Word.

Socially, the G.V.'s this year was marked by firelight meetings in the north ravine and films shown in Davis Hall about the life of Christ.

Clericus Prepares Students for Christian Service

Dr. Pfister welcomes Mr. Fred Renich as guest speaker for On-Campus Seminary Days.

Clericus is a unique organization consisting of ministerial and missionary students. A fellowship forum was held in conjunction with this year's monthly meetings, in which special topics that are directly concerned with a minister's growth and broadening interests in the modern community were discussed. Well-informed speakers, successful in their area of specialization, present lectures followed by open discussions.

Active Varsity Club Promotes New Interest in Sports at H.C.

Exercise, fun, relaxation, competition . . . is what most upper classmen and even some Freshmen and Sophomores want. The Varsity Club functions solely for the purpose of promoting athletic interest and good sportsmanship. The club is open to all those who have won a Varsity letter.

The Intra-mural Flag Football, Intra-mural Basketball, Intra-mural Softball, and the Varsity Club Tourney are all direct efforts of the Varsity Club to provide a well rounded physical program.

Campus Players Present "Our Town"

"Star-crossed lovers aren't like they were in my day!"

If you see some student running around campus shouting, "Et, tu, Brute," or some other student wearing a double-breasted suit, or another one whose face looks like it will have to be washed with cleanser, don't be surprised. Chances are these students are Campus Players' members on their way to, or coming from, production practice.

Campus Players is the dramatic club on campus which stages one main production a year, a shorter one, and meets monthly. Membership includes from twenty-five to thirty persons who always welcome interested Freshman talent.

Political Fervor Abounds on

Young Republicans

As I was walking across the campus, I could hear in the distance a loud, but stern and convincing voice repeating the slogan: "In your heart, you know he's right. Get out to the polls and vote for Barry Goldwater." Sure enough! As the car with the large trumpet speaker approached, I saw that the Young Republicans Club was busy campaigning.

Running a campaign was as arduous to the Young Republicans Club as it is to the professional politicians. Working with the city Young Republicans, the YR's learned how to run a campaign on the local level by contacting and talking with voters and by distributing literature.

At the Young Republican Assembly, George R. Glass, Republican candidate for judge of Indiana's appellate court, First district, stressed the Republican ideals and their candidates in his address to the students.

Campus During Election Year

Young Democrats

"Fellow Americans! Our country lies in the hands of our next President of the United States, Lyndon B. Johnson." This is indicative of the enthusiastic endeavor with which the Young Democrats Club campaigned during the presidential race between Goldwater and Johnson.

Featured during the campaigns was a rally sponsored by the Young Citizens for Johnson. Mr. Stockdale, State Representative; Robert Myers, Huntington County Democratic chairman; Joseph Metler, Fifth District chairman; and speaker Mrs. J. Edward Roush rallied the democrats on the Johnson bandwagon.

This active club, under the sponsorship of Mr. John Alford, inspired among the students of Huntington College a deep patriotic feeling.

The Spanish Club is composed of students who enjoy speaking Spanish and who have a real interest in the Spanish language and culture.

A few of this year's activities included the building of a bull for the homecoming parade, a "pinata bust" at our Christmas party, and a visit from Ovidio Fernandez Cervo, a lawyer and native from Cuba, who told us about his country.

The qualification for membership is at least one semester of college Spanish, or a year of high school Spanish.

Radio Station WA 90 PG was presented to Huntington College by Mrs. Kenneth F. Triggs in memorial to the late Kenneth F. Triggs on September 30, 1964.

By the help of Huntington College Foundation member Mr. Donald Winegardner, an amateur radio operator and friend of Mr. Triggs, the Ranger transmitter, the National receiver, microphones, antennas, code keys, and all former property of Mr. Triggs' amateur station was given to the college. In addition, Mr. Triggs has given about $600 to pay for a Heathkit single side band transmitter, a Heathkit 200 kilowatt linear amplifier, and a new antenna.

The newly organized radio club extends its appreciation and indebtedness to Mrs. K. F. Triggs and the rest who have donated much time in making this radio station and the K. F. Triggs Amateur Radio Club possible.

Band Adds Spirit to Campus Activities

Ken swings his mighty Trumpet.

With a rousing rendition of "King Cotton," along with the yelling crowd and the enthusiastic cheerleaders, the highly spirited band created an atmosphere of victory for the Foresters at every home basketball game.

Under the direction of Professor Donald Kline, the fifteen member band advanced to new heights of success. In addition to playing at basketball games, the band sponsored a May concert featuring the Ossian Choraleers. Also at this concert, the members of the band prepared solos, duets, and trios portraying the appropriate spring theme of "Love."

STUDENT LOUNGE COMMITTEE: Sharon Evans, Miss Betterly, Fred Schweikhardt, Margaret Custer, Janice Kline, Wayne Donaghue.

Manager Sharon Evans and the rest of her committee have a tremendous job of satisfying the several hundred connoisseurs who daily patronize the student lounge.

The atmosphere of the Student Lounge, with the music of the Vienna Waltz or a soft melody by Mantovani, is suddenly interrupted by the cry, "Kirby, your hamburger is ready."

QUALITY CONTROL of the coffee is constantly maintained, from ordinary to _____ (you guess what).

While everyone pokes fun at the Student Lounge, we all appreciate the tremendous efforts of the committee.

Student Library Committee

A member of each class is selected to form the five member Student Library Committee headed by Mrs. Dutcher, Assistant Librarian. This committee is responsible for the attractive window displays in the front of the library.

Submitting a list of titles of new books desired by the student body to the head librarian, Miss Connor, was just one of the many functions performed by the Student Library Committee. Also conducted was the sale of old books to obtain money with which to purchase more current books for the library shelves.

STUDENT LIBRARY COMMITTEE: Donna Rice, Alice Grogg, David Gee, Jann Dodds, Mrs. Dutcher, Ruth Benner.

Athletic Committee

ATHLETIC COMMITTEE: James Cox, Mr. Riebe, Suzanne Wasmuth, Mr. Klopfenstein, Mr. Williams.

The Athletic Committee quietly performs their duties behind the scenes. They are an active committee which develops the intramural program, approves and coordinates athletic schedules, and then presents these schedules to the Student Affairs Committee for a final judgement.

Selecting cheerleaders, giving awards and maintaining a high level of quality and morale in the athletic department, are a few of the well known duties that are rendered by the Athletic Committee.

"Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us . . ." II Cor. 5:20. As representatives of Christ and also of Huntington College, the deputation teams carry out this challenge of presenting the gospel through music. Coordinated by Rev. Ray Zimmerman, Director of Religious Life, these teams minister in churches in the Tri-State area. The Freshman Quartet composed of Ronald Baker, Lynn Chivington, Douglas Zeck, Randy Smith, and accompanied by Dave Jackson is one singing group.

Ambassadors for Christ

*Make a joyful noise to the Lord, all the earth;
break forth into joyous song and sing praises!
Sing praises to the Lord with the lyre, with the lyre and the sound of melody!
With trumpets and the sound of the horn make a joyful noise before the king, the Lord!*

—Psalms 98

Another group with a ministry in song is the Mixed Trio: Beth Malson, David Graham, Darlene Graham, and pianist, Nancy Buer. An instrumental group is the Brass Quartet: William Smith—Pianist, Kevin Bergdall, Willard Saufley, LaDoyt Rodeheaver, and Kenneth Vasey. With heart, instrument, and voice in tune with Christ, these ambassadors witness the Love of Jesus Christ.

"All to Jesus, I surrender, All to Him I freely give, I will ever Love and Trust Him, in His Presence Daily Live." This hymn emphasizes the theme of Christian Life Emphasis Week which was held March 1 through March 7.

The Rev. William Harrington of Coldwater, Michigan was the speaker of the week. Services were held daily at chapel and each evening. Sunday was a special communion service where many renewed their covenant with Christ. Smiling faces, a new consideration for others, and a dedicated and surrendered life to Jesus Christ indicated a peace of heart which only Jesus Christ can give.

Washington Banquet - Our Heritage Recalled

The long awaited evening arrived when all students were able to attend the annual Washington Banquet held in honor of George Washington on February 20. The theme "Free Men Shall Endure" exemplifies the spirit and freedom which George and Martha Washington held so dear to their hearts.

Host and Hostess of the banquet were George and Martha Washington known on campus as Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cornell. Guest speaker, Dr. Gerald H. Jones, Kokomo District Superintendent of the Methodist Church, spoke on the "Freedom of the Christian Man." Master of Ceremonies, John Trook, also known as Pope John XXVI, presented a whole new world of humor. Presenting vocal selections were Mrs. Gerald Wibert and Mr. Durand Smith.

With the challenge of the winning essay, "It Is Through Fraternity That Liberty Is Saved," we must maintain freedom and liberty as George Washington fought so hard to preserve.

Students Take Pride in Campus Clean Up

Bob Kahly leads his wagon "Westward Ho"

8:00 a.m. on a beautiful May morning found the students gathered at the steps of the Administration Building awaiting their assignments of work. It was a relief not having to attend that dreaded 7:30 class, but to exercise those dormant muscles in raking leaves, sawing down old trees, cleaning the North Ravine and Arboretum, and roasting hot dogs at the cookout.

After a morning of hard work, everyone relaxed except those in the girl's tricycle race and the boy's "Little 500" bicycle race sponsored by the Circle K Club.

With the campus cleaned, nerves untensed, and muscles in shape, all students were now ready to study hard for the remaining weeks of classes.

Work finished—hot dogs next.

Homecoming Campaigns Enliven Campus

Homecoming Week was full of activity with the various candidate groups sponsoring student participation affairs and skits. Great enthusiasm is displayed to align students to support the group's favorite candidate. No trick is missed during the vigorous campaigns to secure each precious vote.

Norman Glass introduces "Billy" to former Homecoming Queens, Pat Morrison (1963) and Marty Henry Harrington (1962).

The Third Annual Huntington College Homecoming Parade featured the theme "Exploring New Frontiers." The parade was made under zero weather conditions, however the Homecoming Spirit was not noticeably chilled.

The judges of the floats found it difficult to select the best of many excellent efforts, but placed the first award to the Womens Recreational Association for their float expressing the theme "Exploring With Christ."

Graduation—an Important Terminal In Our Journey of Life

Graduation, the moment every freshman anticipates, has finally arrived to the class of 1965. Vesper Service, Seminary Service, Alumni Banquet, Garden Day, Baccalaureate and Commencement involves the graduate and his guests in the consummation of his liberal arts study.

Baccalaureate, a spiritual inspiration to the graduating class, was held in College Park U. B. Church on Sunday morning, June 6. The Rev. George Weaver spoke on "The Choice."

The Commencement speaker, Dr. George K. Schweitzer, author, philosopher, lecturer, and professor, challenged the graduates to be "tough minded and tender-hearted" attacking the great problems facing the world.

Sports

James Naismith Started All of This . . .

The band is playing jubilantly, the cheerleaders are active and the crowd grows tense with excitement as the preliminaries come to a close. The teams circle as the centers jump for the tip-off. The hush wanes into the cheering and yelling of "Go You Foresters!" An arching shot from the corner gives the Woodsmen an early lead. A sparkling rebound and Huntington possesses the ball. A hustling guard drives into the "key" for two more quick points. The score is getting tighter as the clock counts off the closing seconds of the game. Tension mounts as a foul shot ties the score. H. C. possesses the ball. A fast break, a quick lay-up . . . out of the interfused yell of the crowd and the sound of the buzzer appears coach's red tie and red socks. The Foresters are again victorious.

VARSITY BASKETBALL: Albert Esterline, Robert Sutton, Monte Daniels, Jerry Snapp, Jack Davis, Roger Skinner, Coach Klopfenstein, Douglas Mullen, Paul Bair, Richard

STUDENT MANAGER, Steve Berghoff

Coach Dick Klopfenstein's red socks and red tie may have been the charm that gave the short Forester team their Taylor Trophy, the Homecoming Victory and a final 12-11 season record. Those who are not superstitious know that determination, spirit and skill were the contributing factors in the success of the H. C. Woodsmen.

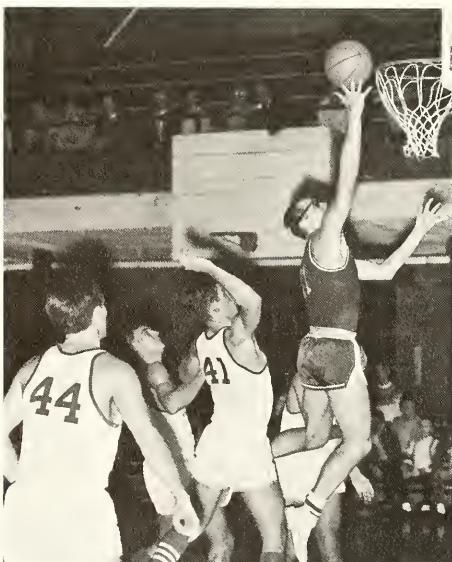

The hustle of Doug Mullen, the good shooting of Kent Paul and Jerry Snapp, the rebounding of John Hicks and the determination of the team defeated Taylor University to capture the Taylor Tournament for the second straight year. What the team lacked in height, they made up in spirit and determination.

There's no game so desperate, that the wisest of the wise will not take freely up for love of power, or love of fame, or merely love of play.

Why Shouldn't the Foresters Fight?

The team is in a huddle. The score is tight. The crowd is tense. The walls begin to echo "Go Foresters! Go! Fight! Win!" What an enormous responsibility our cheerleaders have in sending our team to victory! Under the able coordination of captain Marj Frisch, the cheerleaders devised new cheers, new formations, and new executions. Practice, pep meetings, and enthusiasm became a part of the cheerleader's life. But this hard work pays off when the team is spurred on to another victory.

Future Varsity Foresters Are Developed

Being the "Minor League" of the Huntington College Varsity Foresters, the Junior Varsity trains and prepares potential basketball players for the rigorous competition necessary to become a member of the Varsity squad.

Long and tiresome workouts along with drills and scrimmages are the initial preparations required. In Junior Varsity competition in the Mid-Central Conference, the "potentials" receive actual playing experience and competition.

It may be said that the Junior Varsity is the backbone of the Varsity squad. We owe much praise to the unsung heroes of our basketball team.

"Budding Talent" for Our National Pastime

"Budding Talent" clearly defines the Foresters of 1965. Bright spots appeared in all departments of the team. Good spirit and determination prevailed in every game but the lack of coordinated power at a precise moment often turned a win into a heartbreaking loss.

Many of the players will be back for next year's team including the entire pitching staff, Larry Stout, Stan Reed and LaDoyt Rodeheaver. Also several hitting and fielding stand-outs will return for the 1966 team.

With only four games won in 1965, the returning players are determined to capitalize on their experience of this year, anticipating a winning season in 1966.

*When the One Great Scorer comes to write against your name—
He marks—not that you won or lost—but how you played the game.*

—Grantland Rice

With the picturesque setting of Forest Glen to aid him, Larry Stout retired many excellent hitters with his slider and blazing fast ball.

Jack Davis ties into another of his many long hits during the 1965 season.

Excitement grew as Kirby Warren slides safely into third base during a close play.

Control—having the right man at the right spot at the right time, is the primary job of coach Reed.

A Fine Representation

The tennis team has shown much improvement. Even though the results show a six win and seven loss record, our highly competent netters are worthy of the title: Athletes. Senior Roger Skinner was undefeated during four years of conference competition. With the duo-team of Skinner-Herrberg, brilliant performance and swift action showed the skill of the Foresters. With returning lettermen Jim Cox, and Ron Baker, the Forester anticipate an even more successful season.

Our Conference Champions

H. C.'s turfsmen put in another good showing this year. Striving to beat the Bogey and the Par, our golfers aimed at the Birdies. With this task thus accomplished, our Foresters have acquired full possession of the Mid-Central College Conference trophy for golf after sharing the title with Tri-State College last year. Furthermore, Pat Guthier and Steve Jackson placed on the All-Conference Team. Pat Guthier was co-medalist with the lowest average in the conference.

The precision and accuracy of the team is evident in the fact that in one game against Manchester, all Foresters had scores in the seventies. "Just getting the ball in the hole" is still the task, but the Foresters have skillfully done more than this in winning the trophy.

*The golf links lie so near the mill
That almost every day
The laboring children can look out
And watch the men at play.*

Freshmen Contribute to H.C.'s Story

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS: Ronald Baker, president; Diana Hirschy, secretary; Margaret Munn, treasurer; Jerome Herrberg, vice president.

The fall of 1964 gave the annually fresh beginning to an old story—that of the freshmen here at H.C. Set in the shadow of the administration building, the first chapter began the day of Freshman exams: that dreaded day when good-byes had been said and life at college had officially begun. Groans during these exams, shouts of protest on the later Initiation Day, whispered misgivings at the threshold of a new class, a spring order for next year's beanies, and slightly envious glances cast toward graduating seniors furnished the opening material for this most interesting tale.

The main characters of this story, the members of the class of 1968, proved their worth by gracefully enduring humiliations thrust upon them by playful sophomores. As a result they have been accepted without reservations into the college family, and traditions and cherished ideals have been entrusted to them. How well they preserve their trust will be more evident in chapter II.

Wisdom and Foolishness Reign in H.C.'s Sophomore Class

Sophomores, by definition, are a combination of exact opposites—wisdom and foolishness. And a most pleasing combination it is, judging from the class of 1967.

At times these sophomores are delightfully foolish and unsophisticated. For instance, it is unusual to see members of this class noisily “peeling rubber” on College Avenue or happily smashing snowballs against each other’s window panes. Neither is it surprising to see some of them putting on a hilarious skit or causing gales of laughter in class with a well-chosen remark or antic.

Of course, they adequately redeem themselves by displays of occasionally penetrating insight. Through apt comments in class, in Bible study, in conversation over a cup of coffee, their mental and spiritual growth is reflected. It is in these serious moments that a potential for success reveals itself.

Hence, these sophomores are indispensable to H.C. They add a zest to campus life that is all their own!

Hard Work Is Key to Profitable Year for Juniors

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Francis Jones, president; Mary Ann Vance, secretary; Margaret Custer, treasurer; Paul David Graham, vice president.

Juniors are, of necessity, the money-minded class of a school. So they are here at H. C.

This year they featured the annual hayride as a fall fund-raising project. Topped off with hot, spiced cider and rollicking entertainment, it was a gala event.

They sponsored, as well, the equally traditional penny supper, in the form of a fish fry, which was untraditionally profitable. Credit seems to be due to those people of areas surrounding Huntington who patronized the class.

Yet, lest the juniors be labeled potential Scrooges, it should be noted that they entertained the seniors this spring at a sumptuous banquet. No costs were spared, no details uncared for in this attempt to bid a fond farewell to graduating comrades.

Seniors Receive Advanced Status

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Karen Headley, treasurer; Phil Brumfiel, president; Gary Mastin, vice president; Darlene Graham, secretary.

Seniors can be defined as the advanced class within the college ranks. At least they are the ones who seem to be advanced in having the most things to be done and paid for!

Each year their story is the same: they pose for the inevitable senior pictures, juggle student teaching schedules, place expensive invitation orders, and rent caps and gowns. In between these activities, they attend classes, which put the finishing touches on their vast accumulations of knowledge.

Moreover, the story's ending is equally traditional: seniors put on their black gowns and mortar boards, march sedately down the aisle to receive a diploma, and retrace their steps down the aisle to an open door. On passing through, their seniority is snatched away; they enter the professional world as freshmen, and must begin again.

Seminarians . . .

Those Who Choose To Spread GOD'S WORD

SEMINARY CLASS OFFICERS: Howard Cherry, vice-president; Doyle Clark, secretary; Tom Mellott, treasurer; Keith Smith, president.

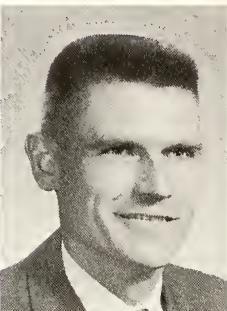

It is difficult to define a Seminarian. The Seminarian is many things. To some, he is a student in quest of knowledge. His seven years is only the beginning of what God has for him to learn. To others he may be a student pastor shepherding his flock, teaching and leading as he is being led and taught.

At times many fail to see that the Seminarian is a human life also confronting hardships and the storms of life. They fail to see that he is a lover of life and of humanity. But a Seminarian is more than that, he is one who has found true meaning of life, for he knows the Giver of life. He has a purpose in living for he has been chosen of God.

No, a Seminarian is not divine. But he has experienced the divine. He has come face to face with his God. God is preparing him for the greatest job in the world; to help others find the meaning and purpose of life that only God through Christ can give.

Alas! Today, the end appears,
Your editor, so bushed and beat,
Driven by problems, almost to tears,
This task for sure, I'll not repeat,
I trust these pages recall the years,
Of profs and students, we did meet.
